Clara is an Italian performer specialized in rope, silks and contemporary dance. In 2020 she has started the creation of her new solo project "Araké" at Flic Scuola di Circo.

Since 2017 she has worked with her own company, Compañía Depáso. Their show "La Trottola" has traveled around festivals and events between Europe and Latin America. Both projects are suitable for all types of public in street or theatre version.

In the meanwhile she teaches her workshop "Aerial Experiences", a technique and research laboratory on rope and silks.

Araké

Rope and ropes solo show project

The project involves the creation of a 45 minutes show . It addresses the issue of the limits to talk imposed on women by society through poetic and danced expressions.

A composition that combines sensitivity and power.

It is mainly designed for a theatre audience of all ages and it will be possible to adapt to a street-performance version.

La Trottola

by Compañía Depáso

It is a contemporary circus show for all types of public in which the vortex of the human fragility is investigated through aerial duo movement and dance.

A 30 min version of the show has been touring in open air festival and a larger version for theatre is in progress

Clara first approaches aerial silks and yoga practice in 2013 in Italy , her home country. In 2015 she moves to Buenos Aires where she has the opportunity to further her studies and slowly transform her hobbies into her great passion.

She studies as a yoga teacher in Ananda Yoga. In Argentina she starts dancing and working on mouvement research in particular at the major in Dance at Universidad Nacional de las Artes, at the same time she gets deeper in the aerial practice training rope and straps.

From the very beginning she feels the urge to learn and investigate body and movement.

In 2019 she comes back to Europe and she follows her circus studies at Flic Scuola di Circo.
